"Global Practices In Combating Corruption"

Tony Prior, Senior Manager, Ernst & Young

Global Practices In Combating Corruption

Tony will examine contemporary practices in combating corruption from some of the world's leading agencies and institutions.

He will discuss current prevention, education, and investigation strategies that have been effectively used to fight corruption.

Tony Prior, Ernst & Young

Tony has been a Senior Manager with Ernst & Young's Fraud Risk Services group for over three years. As a former detective, he conducted many criminal investigations during his 12-year term with the Australian Federal Police (AFP) and the National Crime Authority. During that period he was also assigned to the United Nations Peacekeeping Force in Cyprus (UNFICYP), on a six-month secondment where he undertook both humanitarian and operational duties.

Tony has just completed a 10-month capacity building Anti Corruption program for a government agency in Indonesia. As part of that project he led a delegation of their senior officers on an international benchmarking exercise into anti-corruption and fraud prevention strategies. Together with his colleagues, he has collaborated with practitioners and academics whilst conducting this research in the United Kingdom, The Netherlands, Italy, Korea, Singapore and Hong Kong. His presentation, Global Practices In Combating Corruption, examines contemporary practices from some of the world's leading agencies.
